

www.neuindustries.com
sales@neuindustries.com

neuDolphin Wipes: Safeguard Yourself, Your Patients & Your Institutions

Since the outbreak, the COVID-19 pandemic has changed the way we perceive and practice good hygiene. From wearing masks when ill to judiciously washing our hands after coming home, perhaps one of the important lessons we learn from the pandemic is the pivotal role our daily hygiene practices play in impacting our health. This has had repercussions beyond the personal domain - medical institutions such as hospitals are stepping up their disinfection procedures to ensure that medical environments are sanitised and safe for all.

In this regard, disposable, anti-bacterial wipes have become essential, especially in hospitals, and elder care homes, not only to clean up after the patients but also to disinfect contaminated surfaces. Amongst the array of disposable wipes available out there, NEU Industries supplies various types of medical-grade disposable wipes, for every individual, occasion, and every need.

neuDolphin Anti-Bacterial Personal Moist Wipes

Many struggle to find disposable wipes that are both effective at killing germs and sanitisation, whilst also alcohol-free. Introducing neuDolphin's anti-bacterial personal moist wipes. These anti-bacterial wipes are not only alcohol and fragrance-free but also capable of killing 99.99% of germs and are suitable for frequent usage. It is dermatologically tested and contains Aloe Vera and Vitamin E extracts that keep the skin moisturised and soft. This is especially beneficial for individuals with sensitive skin that could react negatively towards products with added chemicals.

These wipes are compact and also child-safe, making the product especially useful and suitable in medical institutions, and are already widely used in hospitals to thoroughly disinfect skin for patient use, especially when cleaning up after defecation.

neuDolphin Multi-Purpose Personal Dry Wipes

In comparison to the neuDolphin Anti-Bacterial Personal Moist Wipes, the Multi-Purpose Personal Dry Wipes are highly absorbent with a large surface area, rendering them the ideal choice to effectively absorb liquids and fluids efficiently.

Contrary to popular conceptions of dry wipes being rough and coarse against the skin, neuDolphin's multi-purpose personal dry wipes are soft and gentle on the skin. It is lint-free and made from a non-woven textile-like material, making it the perfect wipe for daily cleansing on sensitive skins. These wipes are also great with soap, lotion, or water and can be used to wipe the face or any parts of the body.

This is especially useful in medical institutions such as hospitals, eldercare centers, and senior homes, where patients may be unable to shower due to recent surgery or when drying patients after a sponge bath.

neuDolphin Multi-Surface Disinfecting Wipes

For medical institutions such as clinics and hospitals, high-grade disinfecting wipes are necessary daily. It is of utmost importance to invest in high-quality, medical-grade disinfecting wipes to ensure the safety of both patients and medical staff. Differing from the previous two wipes, this product is made for disinfecting surfaces, rather than skin.

Each canister of neuDolphin's multi-surface disinfecting wipe contains 200 sheets of ready-to-use, high-grade cleaning, and disinfecting wipes. It has been rigorously tested to EN standard against a range of bacteria, viruses, fungi, yeasts, and moulds, and kills 99.99% of germs quickly. It can effectively combat viruses such as Influenza A H1N1 virus, Salmonella, MRSA, and more.

It is ideal for all surfaces and can be used on high-contact touchpoints in order to reduce the risk of cross-contamination and transmission of viruses. It is also incredibly convenient to use - simply pull a piece out from the canister and you are ready to disinfect any surface.

Wipes For Every Occasion, Every Need

NEU Industries supplies high-quality, medical-grade wipes for every occasion and your every need. Not only are our products maceratable and easy to dispose of, but our wipes can also be customisable in the size of each sheet, and also quantity in each packaging. Contact us today to invest in high-quality wipes to keep your body and environment sanitised and safe for all.

Article by Neu Industries Pte Ltd published on _ May 2022. For further enquiries, drop us an email at sales@neuindustries.com.

